

Create Your Vision

Calling on the virtue of vision, write a statement about the leader you “are”, set in the future. Set a date by saying something like “It is September 30, 2015 and I awake to a day of challenge and opportunity...”. Then describe how you face it, with whom you are and what you have learned about character leadership. Be real and use verbs and virtues to describe your approach to leadership on that day. Have fun with it!
